FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Members,

Thank goodness for a bit of a cooler weather - I love it and so do the dogs.

Of course that means the Specialty season heats up. I encourage you to attend these Specialty shows, support other State Clubs, see some different dogs and enjoy the company of people who like yourselves invest time and passion into our treasured breed.

In this day and age we are fortunate that so many breed experts are prepared to come and judge our dogs and the current trend sees judges not just from the UK invited but the latest lot of schedules sees an influx of judges from the Continent and the USA as well!

Of course our Queens Birthday weekend Championship shows in June sees past Chairman of the UK Parent Club, Elaine Berwick and successful exhibitor Ted Eubank from Texas making the trip out to Melbourne! Ted will also judge other breeds at the Toy Club of Victoria on the long weekend.

Please support the Club with entries and donations.

Of course the Club is much more than a Specialty Show. Thanks to a hardworking committee that champion this amazing breed.

I can think of no finer companion; exquisite in looks, divine in temperament and long named the 'comforter spaniel'.

Please continue to be vigilant when it comes to health testing when breeding cavaliers. Heart and Eye Specialists have never been more available and DNA profiling and testing is a wonderful advancement in ensuring the longevity and health of Cavaliers!

Enjoy your dogs

Will Henderson.

From the Secretary:

Hoping everyone has survived the summer and looking forward to the cooler weather coming.

We have had a long time since our last newsletter and the committee wants to apologise for this delay.

We now have many forms of communication with our members with our email messages and the club FB group which have proven to be very successful form of communication.

However we do understand some members wish to still have newsletters in this format and will endeavour to continue on a more regular basis.

September saw us represented as a breed at the Melbourne Royal Melbourne Show and many club members helped meet the public.

We thank all the members who helped on the Breed stall bringing their dogs and talking to the public. There was also the Royal Show Dog Show which had a large cavalier entry and several members did very well in the dog show at Group and General Specials level. Results are listed later in newsletter.

Our next big event in November was the Open Show that we held in Conjunction with Garden State Dog Club. This show was well represented and ran very smoothly between the two championship shows. These shows give Trainee judges the opportunity to judge more dogs as part of their training schedule. Thank you from Dr Linda Beer our judge on the day for the opportunity. She commented on the quality of the dogs and good sportsmanship of exhibitors.

Included in this newsletter are the schedules for the South Australia CKCS club Specialty in May and our own June double header Championship shows-please support these club with your entries.

We are busy with June Champ Show preparations as its is fast approaching.

Charlotte Taylor is responsible for taking donations for Trophy and Sashes for our June shows. To avoid confusion we ask if donations are made they are not included in show entries-payment can be cash directly to Charlotte or direct deposit in club account listing Your name and Donation please.

We will be holding a Silent Auction stall again over the Champ Show weekend and Karen Taylor is organising collection of donated goods and responsible for the stand on the days. Please contact Karen if you wish to donate goods for the auction.

Linda Hocking is organising our Hospitality Stand again and if anyone has any free time and wishes to help we would be very grateful.

Additionally we need help in the dinning room with service and cleanup for the Judges lunches so calling for volunteers within our non show community.

This is always a busy time and hope that we can see lots of members that weekend.

Thanks

The Strength of a Soldier

In this article, I wanted to pay tribute to my very special little man – my little Soldier boy.

Daventri Soldier Windlow was whelped on 8 April 2013: the smallest of five little munchkins. His sire is Grand Ch Daisymont Time In Motion, and his dam is Daventri Midnight Tryst. His pedigree includes the lines of Dapsen, Carnwath, Miletree (UK), and Avalcier (UK).

At an early age, Soldier contracted a urinary tract infection. Lovingly nursed by his breeders, David and Trish Fernleigh, the little man was already living up to his name as he battled the infection and got better.

In June 2013, Solly came home to us at the age of 10 weeks. He wasted no time in fitting into our household, adoring 12 year old Baxter, and following his 4 year old cousin Fletcher around everywhere.

Solly has always been big on making his own fun. The most marvellous games involved skipping and prancing about while flinging a toy around joyously, sometimes sending it flying (and sometimes out of reach, resulting in Aidan or I having to rescue it so that the game could continue). Any pieces of paper left lying around were considered to be fair game – a practice that continues to this day. There is apparently nothing more satisfying in Solly's books than shredding loose paper and throwing oneself a parade! Our couch was given respite only when Solly became too big to fit under it, thus thwarting his attempts to disembowel it!

Following in Fletcher's footsteps, Soldier commenced obedience classes at the local dog obedience club, and at the age of 11 months, he entered the Rally Obedience trial ring for the first time. He earned two beautiful passes that placed him in the top six dogs in two rings with approximately 20 entries in each. Three days shy of his first birthday, Soldier earned his third Rally Novice pass (and his title).

In mid-July 2014, Soldier went out to the toilet in the wee small hours (no pun intended) and came back with an injured eye. He was rushed off to the vet where he was diagnosed with a lacerated cornea, and thus, four weeks of treatment commenced.

Although Soldier's eye showed signs of healing, an infection bubbled away beneath the surface, eventually making itself apparent in mid-August 2014. A visit to Animal Eye Care showed that the little man had glaucoma, and the recommended course of action was to remove his eye.

I promptly dissolved into tears, feeling acutely that I had failed my precious little man. But as the experts reassured us, we had done everything we possibly could for Solly. Sometimes these things just happen.

The following day, Soldier's left eye was removed and he commenced life as a pirate Cavalier. He has never looked back.

As Solly healed and we both readjusted to life, several things happened. Firstly, my very independent little man started to turn into a real snuggle pot, and a strong bond has formed (and continues to form) between us. His confidence grew in leaps and bounds and he started to conquer training exercises that had previously been difficult for him. And even though he will always be shy and introverted, he has made some wonderful friends (both human and canine), and has a firm following of admirers.

Soldier currently has nine titles across several different disciplines:

- 1) Neutered Champion (Conformation)
- 2) Community Companion Dog (Obedience)
- 3) Rally Novice, Rally Advanced, Rally Excellent, and Rally Advanced Excellent (Rally Obedience)
- 4) Jumping Dog (Agility)
- 5) Snooker Dog (Agility Games)
- 6) Endurance Test

The majority of these titles were earned after Soldier lost his eye. This means that Soldier has been able to successfully navigate Agility equipment, challenging Obedience exercises, conquer the Conformation ring, and deal with all manner of distractions, all with his missing eye.

Soldier's adventures have been many and varied. At his very first conformation show, his extremely anxious and nervous handler was ready to throw in the towel when the judge awarded him his class but refused him the challenge before he even got off the table. However, thanks to a marvellous support network, we persevered, and Soldier's first show ring points were awarded to him by none other than the President of the ANKC. While the odds will never be stacked in his favour, Solly has had his own share of successes in the show ring, including magic moments such as three Neuter in Groups, a Runner Up Neuter in Group, and a Runner Up Neuter in Show.

Despite his lack of depth perception, Soldier is a dab hand at navigating Agility equipment and jumps, earning his very first Agility pass exactly one year to the day his eye was removed. At the time of writing, Soldier has earned his first pass towards his tenth title – Snooker Dog Excellent (an Agility Games title) – and it was a very special honour to earn this pass at a trial where his breeders came to watch him in action.

Solly is extremely sensitive to any kind of pressure. Pressure from me, pressure from a judge, pressure from a steward, pressure from the environment, pressure from the weather, pressure from a tight or twisty course, pressure from distractions outside the ring ... You name it, Solly has had a meltdown because of it. There have been times where I've had to make the call that things aren't working for him, given him a cuddle in the ring, and withdraw gracefully. In the event that we have taken this course of action, I've had judges and competitors praise me for my decision to put my dog's needs first, and the manner in which I support him.

However, when Solly is on, he is ON. He has sparkling rear end awareness, lovely focus, and is a very sound little dog. At a recent Rally Obedience trial hosted by one of our home clubs, Solly moved me to tears when he earned Team Windlow's very first perfect score in the Rally ring. This has been added to Solly's list of Magic Moments as the little bloke proves time and time again that he is a real little trooper.

People may not necessarily remember my name around the trial ring. But when explained that "she runs a one eyed Cavalier", people instantly know who I am or, more accurately, who Soldier is.

He truly is one of a kind, and I wouldn't have him any other way.
